Paper competition

CSLIS is sponsoring a competition for the best graduate student and the best faculty/scholar paper given at the conference. The winners will be determined by a committee of three jurors from Executive Board members of the C. S. Lewis and Inklings Society (CSLIS) and will receive monetary awards. To be eligible, the contestant must be a member of the CSLIS and present the paper at the conference. If you would like your paper to be considered for the competition, please send the full paper by February 1, 2012.

Please E-mail competition entries to Dr. Salwa Khoddam: skhoddam@cox.net

Instructions: Author's name should appear only on separate title sheet. Title of paper should appear on the first page of the text and in header on subsequent pages. Proper documentation and a bibliography must be included.

Student Essay Contest: $500 First Prize

Currently enrolled undergraduate students are invited to submit analytical essays focusing on the work of C. S. Lewis or a related author. Essays should not exceed ten double-spaced pages, excluding Works Cited page. The student with the winning essay will receive a cash prize of $500, along with free registration, room, and board for the Colloquium (May 31 - June 2, 2012, Taylor University). Students whose essays receive the judge's honorable mention will also be invited to attend the colloquium free of charge. Deadline for student essays is April 2, 2012.

Please send student contest essays to Dr. Pamela Jordan-Long, Colloquium Chair, by E-mail at pmjordan-long@taylor.edu or by post at Dr. Pamela Jordan-Long / Professional Writing Department / Taylor University / Upland, IN 46989. Include your name, address, telephone number, and email address.
